INTRODUCTION

This project focuses on creating a simple and professional resume using pure HTML. The main objective of this project is to understand the basic structure of a web page and learn how HTML tags can be used to organize and display information. The resume includes important sections such as personal details, career objective, educational qualifications, technical skills, projects, and other relevant information. Various HTML tags such as headings, paragraphs, lists, tables, and formatting tags are used to arrange the content in a clear and structured manner. This project provides practical knowledge of HTML and demonstrates how a complete resume can be created without using external frameworks or advanced technologies.
